

Adrienne Kleiman – Acrylic Painting

This is an acrylic painting on canvas entitled "Another Day in Placitas." The double rainbow is seen over the Sandias so often I feel that it is an iconic symbol of the natural beauty that we get to experience by living in Placitas. My inspiration for this painting came from experiencing not one but many double rainbows from our portal. Rather than working from a photograph I used my memory and the eastern view of the Sandias from my studio window.
