

Brian Amador studied classical guitar, composition, and improvisation at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, and flamenco guitar in Albuquerque and Madrid. In 2009, he was named a fellow at the McDowell Artist Colony, the nation's oldest and most prestigious artist colony. There he composed Sabor y Memoria: A Musical Feast in Seven Courses. Brian also does voice-overs in Spanish.